

My Farmhouse Kitchens

Where Catering Meets Fine Dining

"It is good taste, and good taste alone, that possesses the power to sterilize and is always the first handicap to any creative functioning." - Salvador Dali

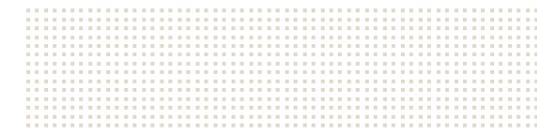

Must be the best kept secret in Gaborone! But if you do get to taste their products, you will be happy and proud they are created by sons of the soil in our beautiful Botswana. It is a small fully home-grown company with a big vision. And that is to produce and present distinct world food flavours, pushing boundaries of modern cuisine in Africa to become the leading store in the region for rich, delicate and appetizing food products sold in cafes, restaurants and stores.

Food that speaks to the traditional farmhouse appeal walking you down memory lane when you had enjoyed the fine aroma wafting from your mother's kitchen as she turned out her favourite dish using just picked ingredients from her garden. No need for frills, the aroma carries the promise of the best that is yet to come! Just that there is the signature of My Farmhouse Kitchens.

They work round the clock researching, discovering, preparing and delivering good food products like their trail blazers; the Asian curry puffs and the English pound cakes. This way you are guaranteed to have the best culinary experience money can buy without spending days researching on your own.

With its production base located in the suburbs of Gaborone, it now boasts cuisines from the eight corners of the world across the spice trail from the sunny islands in the Caribbean to the mystique Far East, top on BBQ from the big five, to the clean lines of tastes of continental Europe and contemporary flavours of Africa.

So, whether you are looking for an awesome culinary experience for family, friends, hosting hi-quality boardroom meetings, hi-tea events, urban and intimate parties or just a go-to place to find sensational tasting products for yourself... you have come to the right place.

The company recently introduced its frozen products range of its signature products on online stores including Ziigie.com and Skymart.

This came as a solution for those looking to order in bulk for use later. Storage for the frozen range is easy and convenient, with a short preparation of 4-minutes deep frying or, if you prefer, 20 seconds defrost on medium power with their ready-to-eat product lines and voila!

Look out soon for their foray with My Foodness on their food ordering mobile apps into the supper and weekend food scene. Within MKF's immediate aspirations, is to manufacture and export signature products while working with investors to build a regional franchise network and creating employment.

The current focus of its corporate development is building its corporate brand and so this partnership with Heritage has come in at just the right time. Pure Inspiration! Pula! ■
